Lick-Wilmerding High School

LICK-WILMERDING HIGH SCHOOL

Dedication - Lissa Crider

When most high school students hear the word "librarian" the image of a shriveled old maid complete with gray bun, glasses resting halfway down the nose, and second finger permanently tangent to pursed lips pops into one's head. However, when a Lick-Wilmerding student hears that same word, a far kinder image comes to mind. Lissa Crider, who joined Lick's faculty in 1994, does not fit that stereotypical librarian image. All Lick students are given research projects throughout their years here, and, looking back, can you really imagine how you would have gotten through that project without Lissa's enthusiastic aid? She never fails to give tips to refine your search or to help you find a resource. Where would you be if your project was due the next day and you'd completely forgotten to compile a bibliography? Luckily, Lissa always stays one step ahead, and she comes to the rescue with a helpful link on citing sources from Lick's library webpage. In our technology-based world, Lissa has kept the library up to date, with features like online resources and links to public libraries in the Bay Area. But gratitude is not felt solely by the students. Lick's faculty has also benefited greatly from Lissa's help, whether it be putting together a presentation on how to find a source, or pulling books off the shelves to help students spend less time searching, and more time researching.

The libraries in most schools are crowded - full of dusty books and artificial lighting, but Lick's academic epicenter is blessed with grand windows and majestic space. Once again Lick is blessed with the inexhaustible, energetic spirit of Lissa Crider. This year she took on a senior advising, again demonstrating her boundless strength and dedication to Lick's students. We never say it enough, Lissa, but thank you for your energy, your encouragement, your kindness, and your endless resource of project-saving knowledge.

Headmaster's Address

Dear Class of 2005,

The scrapbook of my seventeen years of memories at Lick puts you squarely in the chapter entitled, "Nice.....Kind.....Generous Spirited!" Since you first arrived on Ocean Avenue in the fall of 2001, we have thought of you as "one of the nicest groups of students we have ever had." I don't mean this in some kind of over-the-top, saccharine, kind of a way. Quite to the contrary, I marvel at your distinctive and authentic individual qualities that are bound together by a warmth, insightfulness and allocentrism that are truly extraordinary.

You know that Lick measures its ultimate success by the extent to which our graduates enter the adult world with the capacity, the confidence and the commitment to help make the world a better place. Like the chronological theme of this yearbook, your lives will continue to unfold and be marked by the continuity and connections that link your past, your present and your future. Your big hearts and your concern for others represent a thick strand that will always run straight through your experience, around which will be woven the fabric of your lives.

On behalf of the faculty and administration, I wish you well as you continue to accumulate accomplishments, satisfactions and fond memories. I have no doubt that you will make the world a kinder, gentler place that will be much better for your having been here.

With love and best wishes,

Al Adams Headmaster

Dude, Are You Skate Or Die?

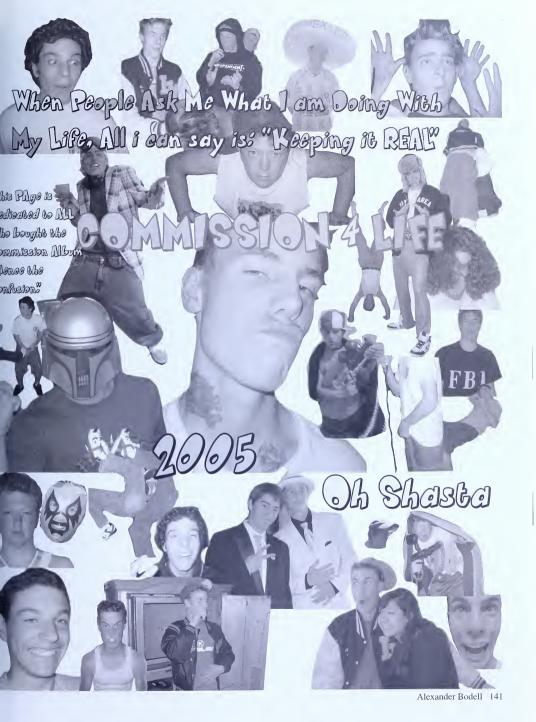

"He had gearcely gone a ghort league, when fortune, that was conducting his affairs from good to better, discovered to him the road, where he also espied an Inn. Sancho positively maintained that it was an Inn, and his master that it was a castle; and the dispute lasted so long that they arrieved there before it was determined."

SO WE FIX OUR EYES NOT ON WHAT IS SEEN, BUT WHAT IS UNSEEN.

FOR WHAT IS SEEN IS TEMPORARY, BUT WHAT IS UNSEEN IS ETERNAL.
